Grand Jury Returns a Few Indictments.

It is Expected That County Officials Will Be Arrested—Partners Fall Out.

MORE SHOOTING IN BREATHT

Jackson, Ky., July 22—The grand jury last night returned indictments against Edward Sharp and Joseph Crawford, teamsters for the Hargis brothers, for arson. They were already held on the charge of setting fire to Ewen's hotel last month.

An indictment was also returned against Gardner Plummer for attempting to bribe a witness. It is charged that he offered B. J. Ewen $5,000 to leave town, so that he could not testify in the trial of Curtis Jett and Thomas White. It is currently reported that L. T. Hollis, who is well known here, testified before the grand jury as to who furnished the money that was offered to Ewen. The grand jury is continuing in session after returning true bills in the arson and bribery cases and is extending into other capital offenses in connection with the feud.

There is much talk over an alleged quarrel between County Judge James Hargis and Sheriff Edward Callahan. It is said that the former was angry because the sheriff refused to insist on his rights to draw the present grand jury, and that the latter replied that Judge Hargis would have appointed an elizer in his place if he had not declined to serve.

According to common report an effort has been made to implicate Judge Hargis, and Sheriff Callahan in bribery case but evidence not sufficient in the judgment of the jurors to justify indictment.

MORE SHOOTING IN BREATHT

Jackson, Ky., July 22—In a desperate pistol duel at Cave Run school house, three miles east of Jackson, three people were severely hurt. James and William Barrett and Jack Howard and his 14 year old son were the principals.

The civil authorities declined to take action and two details of soldiers from here were sent into the country to make the arrests.

The schoolboy may recover, but the two men are fatally wounded.

WILL BE BROUGHT HERE.

HUSBAND OF MRS. PARSONS HELD FOR MURDER IN FIRST DEGREE.

A message from East St. Louis this afternoon states that Samuel A. Parsons was held for murder in the first degree by the coroner for shooting his wife, Mrs. Virgie Parsons, mentioned in a dispatch elsewhere.

Mrs. Lassiter will arrive with the remains Friday from St. Louis and the burial will take place at Oak Grove Friday afternoon.

AGAIN ADJUDGED INSANE.

Thomas Jenkins, who was sent to the asylum from this county one year ago last April, was adjudged insane again today before Judge Lightfoot and will this afternoon be taken to the asylum by Deputy Sheriff Wm. Lydon. He is 34 years of age and lives near Woodville.

THE STATE MILITIA

Paducah Company Will Probably Have Two Encampments

First to be at Jackson and the Other at West Point With Regular Army.

THE REPORT OF MAJOR BROCK

It is presumed from communications received by Captain James Caldwell of the Wheeler Guards, that members of Paducah's military company, along with other militiamen of Kentucky, will have two encampments this summer.

The first will be in August, when it is supposed from what has been sent out from Frankfort that the troops will all have their camp instruction at Jackson, Ky.

It is now announced that the Paducah soldiers will be among those who are to participate in the army maneuvers at West Point, Ky., in October, and Captain Caldwell has received instructions relative to the arrangements to be made for it.

The arrangements are as follows: That the maneuvers to be held in October and that the following troops take part: From Wisconsin, one regiment of infantry; from Michigan three regiments of infantry; from Indiana three regiments of infantry, one battalion of artillery; from Kentucky two regiments of infantry and three batteries of light artillery, making about 6,800 officers and men. The regular regiments will compose 25 companies of infantry, two troops of cavalry including the Seventh, now at Chickamauga, and two field batteries.

The West Point site embraces 22,600 acres of land, 25 miles west from Louisville, on the Illinois Central railroad, this being one of the sites reported to congress in the secretary of war's report for 1902, as being available for a camp site for joint maneuvers.

Another matter of interest to the militiamen all over the state is the report of Major Buck, who was in Paducah and other Kentucky cities recently to inspect the troops, in which he says that the officers and men will show great improvement after being in a camp of instruction with regular troops. He recommends the detail of a regular officer as instructor during the whole year, and adds that if a suitable officer is sent he believes it will undoubtedly result in great improvement. Major Buck says there should be a thorough reorganization of the staff departments, and heads thereof selected for fitness and because of personal interest in the welfare of the state guard. He says there is practically no adjutant general department, no inspector general department, no judge advocate general department, no quartermaster general department, nor a medical department.

Major Buck believes the fact that the men are paid nothing makes it impossible to expect proper discipline. Major Buck recommends that there should be on hand a sufficient supply of all equipments to put two regiments of six hundred men each in the field, and "if every effort on the part of the state is made to have a sufficient small force rather than one twice as large on paper, but absent in fact, the next report can but show improvement."

In the body of his report, Major Buck says that the state guard conforms to state requirements, but emphatically not to that of the regular army, for the guard, as at present organized, armed and equipped is not fit to take the field except in the service of the state to quell local disturbances.

"The accommodation given the state guard for armories," says the officer "are entirely inadequate, and the treatment of the guard by the state in this respect is greatly to be deplored and reflects discredit on those responsible for it. The armament is generally poor, but enough serviceable rifles for the use of the guard are in the state. The four Hotchkiss guns are in excellent condition. Boards Do Not Seem to be Able to Do Anything.

They Will for the Third Time Ask for Bids on the Street Work.

OPENED AUGUST 3 NEXT TIME

The joint street committee of the general council held a three hours' session at the city hall yesterday afternoon for the purpose of reaching some conclusion relative to the paving of several blocks of streets in Paducah. The controversy was whether or not the contract could be let to Mr. E. C. Terrell for building the streets alone and let the pavement work to someone else. The committee decided to leave it to the council.

Last night the council held a called meeting at the city hall and took up the matter. Councilmen Gilson and Nichols were absent.

Chairman Hannan of the street committee said a portion of the members were for awarding the contract to Katterjohn & Weikel, while others on account of the questions which had arisen, were for rejecting all and advertising for new bids.

The majority report, for awarding the contract, was signed by Councilmen Potter and Aldermen Chamblin and Kirchoff, and the minority report, for readvertising for bids, signed by Hannan and Himmel.

The report of the minority was adopted on a vote and Mayor Yeiser was instructed to advertise for bids, to be opened on August 3 next, the street and sidewalk bids to be bid on as a whole, and not separately.

The board then adjourned.

NEW CARS PROBABLE.

GENERAL MANAGER WALLACE RETURNS FROM ST. LOUIS.

General Manager George C. Wallace of the Paducah Street Railway and Power Co. and Mr. Dan Simon, the chief electrician, have returned from St. Louis, where they went to look over some larger cars and new equipment for the power house here. They have not definitely closed a deal for anything, however.

A meeting of the directors is to be held this afternoon for the purpose of hearing the report relative to new rolling stock, and until then it is not known what will be done.

At the meeting this afternoon the matter of reopening the park may also come up. Manager English has closed it so far as his lease is concerned and it is possible the street car company may reopen it and make the admission free. The only thing that causes the company to hesitate is that people find in baseball about as much amusement as they seem to desire this warm weather, and it is not definitely settled that the theater will be reopened.

SHOT BY HUSBAND

Daughter of Mrs. A. L. Lassiter of Paducah, is Dead.

Her Husband Claims He Mistook Her for a Burglar—Others Say They Quarrelled.

JEALOUSY PROBABLE CAUSE

Mrs. Virgie Parsons, formerly of Paducah, and a daughter of Mrs. A. L. Lassiter, of North Sixth street, died at her home in East St. Louis from a pistol wound inflicted by her husband, Samuel A. Parsons, formerly a brakeman. News of the shooting was published in yesterday's Sun, and Mrs. Lassiter left at noon yesterday for St. Louis in response to a summons. Her daughter died yesterday morning, however, before she arrived.

Yesterday afternoon's St. Louis Post-Dispatch says of the tragedy: Mrs. Virgie Parsons, wife of Samuel A. Parsons, a former brakeman, was shot by her husband while standing at a window of their home at 819 Winstanley avenue, East St. Louis, shortly after midnight, Monday. She died at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Parsons, who is in jail, says he mistook his wife for a burglar.

In an antemortem statement to Policeman Phillip Kramer, given in the presence of Dr. A. L. Stanton, Mrs. Parsons declared that she and her husband "quarreled all the time," but did not make any charges against Parsons.

Mrs. Gertrude Golding says that Mrs. Parsons told her 20 minutes before she died her husband had drawn a revolver on her, and that she was trying to escape through the window when she was shot.

Mrs. Golding, who has been living with the Parsons for the past week, states that Parsons was drinking Monday evening and that Mrs. Parsons told her that he had quarreled with her because of the purchase of $9.50 worth of rugs and had then quarreled because of jealousy. She says she did not hear any quarrel immediately preceding the shooting, and that she was not awakened by the shot.

"Mrs. Parsons had bought some rugs in the afternoon, agreeing to pay $9.50 for them. She told me that Parsons abused her for buying them, saying she would let anybody cheat her; that he could get better rugs for $2.50, and that he was going to send them back. She retorted with a declaration that it was better to spend money for rugs than for whiskey and at gambling."

"Mr. Parsons called to me after the shooting and told me to get up; that he had shot Virgie."

"When I entered the room here the shooting occurred, Mrs. Parsons was lying on the floor. She told me that she had been shot, and was going to die."

Parsons says that he had not quarreled with his wife, and that he had only laughed at her for buying the rugs. He denies that he was drinking or that he was jealous.

"When I got home about 10:30 o'clock," he said, "I found the screen door fastened and the windows down. My wife said that there had been a man up on the porch earlier in the evening and that she thought he was bent on burglary."

"There was no quarrel between us, at all."

"Some time after we had retired I was awakened by a noise of the window of the front room being raised. Our bed was in the room immediately back of the front room and there is a clear view of the window from the foot of the bed."

"The room was dark, however, and I could not see any more than the dim outlines of a figure at the window. I drew my pistol from under the pillow and fired at the window. My wife screamed. That was the first that I knew that she was not in bed."

Parsons says he and his wife had separated for three or four weeks about a year ago.

He declares that jealousy on her part was the cause of the separations,

Mr. McCreight will return to Albuquerque the latter part of this week.

CAUGHT IN CAIRO.

NEGRO WANTED HERE FOR ROBBERY IN JAIL THERE.

The local authorities have been notified that Joe Davis, colored, is serving a sentence in Cairo for shooting at another and will soon be out. The authorities have notified them to hold Davis, as he is wanted here for being an accomplice in the robbery of an old man down about First and Jefferson streets. He and Henry Palmer took the old man's money away from him, and Palmer was given twelve years, being an ex-convict, and is now at Eddyville. Davis will be brought here for trial when his present sentence expires in a few days.

DOUBLE-HEADED SNAKE.

San Francisco, July 22.—A double-headed snake that can back up as readily as it can move forward has been added to the natural history department of the Memorial museum. It is about thirty-two inches long, about as broad as the handle of a table knife, with the tail blunt at the end. It belongs to a wholly tropical species called amphisbana, defined as "a species of tropical lizard distinguished by the obtuseness of the head and tail."

The reptile hitherto has been only found in South America and the West Indies. The specimen just presented to the museum was found at Half Moon bay, in this state.

SCHEDULE FOR TODAY.

Paducah at Henderson.
Hopkinsville at Jackson.
Clarksville at Cairo.

There was plenty doing yesterday afternoon in the closing game of the series between Paducah and Clarksville, and the Tennessee boys won by a score of 16 to 9. It was a slugfest on both sides, and a pitcher was batted out of the box for each club. A total of thirty-two hits was made, eighteen by the Clarksville and fourteen by Paducah. A number of these should not have been hits by rights but on account of the slow field the balls hit the ground before any one got to them and no error could be recorded.

Wilson was taken out and Girard substituted by Paducah in the third inning and Harris for Myatt in the sixth by Clarksville. The Paducah boys had hammered Myatt numerically and Harris had to be put in before the end of the sixth. It fairly rained hits, and the fact that there were so few errors, a total of eleven, shows that pretty fair ball was played, considering. Ten of the hits were two base hits, and one a three bagger. A man named Graver, from California, played center field for Paducah and showed up well both as a hitter and base runner, but did not make good in the field. Lloyd, who pitched Sunday's game, did good work at the bat, getting two doubles.

Harris, the crack pitcher substituted in the sixth, has a ball similar to that of Freeman, formerly with Paducah, and not a hit was made after he went in.

Game by tunings.

FIRST INNING.

Clarksville: T. Holmes flied to center for two bases. Engle flied out to Edmunds. Collins doubled to center. Holmes scoring. Reiney hit to left for a base, Collins scoring. Carlisle popped out to Potts. Anderson went out from short to first. Two runs.

Paducah: Akers went out from pitcher to first. Potts singled to center. Clifford grounded to left for a base. Edmunds hit to short, Clifford being forced out at second, but Edmunds beat it to first. Potts scored while an effort was being made to put him out between bases, and Edmunds died at third. One run.

SECOND INNING.

Clarksville: Myatt out from short to first. Betts flied out to Akers. Quilty flied out to LeCompte. No runs.

Paducah: LeCompte out from pitcher to first. O'Connor hit to pitcher and got base on error. Wilson hit to Engle who caught and made double play by catching O'Connor off base. No runs.

THIRD INNING.

Clarksville: T. Holmes hit to left for two bases. Engle singled to short. Collins singled to left. Reiney singled to left, Holmes and Engle scoring. Carlisle hit by pitched ball. Anderson hit to third, who forced Reiney out, Collins scoring on wild throw. Myatt went out from short to first. Carlisle scoring. Betts popped out to O'Connor. Four runs.

Paducah: Graver fouled out to third. Lloyd hit to left for two bases. Akers fouled out to catcher. Potts singled to right, Lloyd scoring on throw to second. Clifford went out from pitcher to first. One run.

FOURTH INNING.

Clarksville: Quilty singled to left. T. Holmes hit to O'Connor for a base, Engle fanning. Collins hit to right, Quilty and Holmes scoring, and Collins scoring on error. Reiney fouled out to O'Connor. Carlisle popped out to Potts. Three runs.

Paducah: Edmunds singled over second baseman's head. LeCompte hit easy grounder to third and got to first, Edmunds being thrown out at third.

FIFTH INNING.

Clarksville: Anderson fouled out to Edmunds. Myatt singled to left. Betts hit to center for two bases and Myatt died at home plate. Quilty out from short to first. No runs.

Paducah: Graver hit to center for two bases, Lloyd out from short to first. Akers hit an easy one to first. Graver scoring and Akers getting base on fielder's choice. Potts hit to center for two bags, O'Connor running for Akers, scoring. Clifford hit to center and Potts scored, Clifford dying at second. Edmunds went out from pitcher to first. Three runs.

SIXTH INNING.

Clarksville: T. Holmes flied out to Potts. Engle singled to left. Collins hit to deep center and Engle scored. Reiney flied out to Graver. Carlisle hit to short and Collins died on third. One run.

Paducah: LeCompte hit to short who couldn't handle it. O'Connor singled to center. Girard hit to left for two bases, LeCompte scoring and O'Connor dying at home plate. Graver hit to short for a base, Lloyd hit to center for a double, Girard and Graver scoring. Akers singled to left. Lloyd scored on bad throw to third. Potts fouled out to Holmes. Clifford flied out to left. Four runs.

SEVENTH INNING.

Clarksville: Anderson hit a hot one to Girard and got base. Harris flied out to LeCompte. Betts fanned. Quilty out from pitcher to first. No runs.

Paducah: Edmunds walked. LeCompte hit to short and Edmunds was forced out at second. O'Connor fanned. Girard flied out to left. No runs.

EIGHTH INNING.

Clarksville: T. Holmes singled to left. Engle hit to third and Holmes went to third and Engle to second on wild throw. Collins hit to short and Holmes died in home. JUST A LITTLE DOPE.

The standings in The Sun are from the secretary of the K. I. T. league, who lives in Cairo. The table may be right or may be wrong, but it is official, and like the decision of the umpire has to stand. It will be noticed that Cairo is put as high as they could get her and Paducah as low, hence it is fortunate for Paducah that she can't get any lower and fortunate for the rest of the league that Cairo can't get any higher. The official standing does not tally with that kept by the papers in the league towns but that doesn't matter.

The outfield of Paducah is about the worst possible. A schoolboy field could do as well. Yesterday many safe hits should have been putouts.

Ben Boyd's colored team today begins a series of games with a Dyersburg Tenn., club at league park.

Murray and Cadiz teams played a match game at Murray yesterday, the score being 18 to 2 in favor of Murray. This indicates that Murray has a crack ball club, as the Cadiz club it defeated beat the Hopkinsville league team before the season opened.

Yesterday must have been an off day for Wilson, but the boys were with him. He is a good pitcher and uses his head, and has won more games than any other Paducah pitcher. Had he had good support in the outfield yesterday the result might have been different.

Manager Gage will in all probability give Freeman his release. He is a good strikeout pitcher until they get onto his puzzles and then it's all over.

Pete Dunn gives satisfaction as an umpire at all times. There is occasionally a kick over some decision, but when it is remembered that every decision has to be against one of the teams and the average player is a chronic kicker and is likely to kick one way or the other, this is not strange. One thing is certain, however. They don't hurt themselves going out to argue with Pete.

Cairo will be here Sunday, and if we don't have a good team by then, the fans will "knock" until frost comes.

Ed Perry, the catcher, has jumped his contract here and his friends think he had gone to Rome, Ga., where he has an excellent offer as catcher in an independent team.

Conney Best, the pitcher, wires that he will arrive tonight with three new men, two being outfielders, who will appear here in games with Cairo. A new catcher was signed with Paducah by Manager Gage yesterday and will report for duty at Henderson today or tomorrow.

Other K. I. T. Games.

HENDERSON TAKES TWO.

Jackson, Tenn., July 22.—The Hens yesterday took both games in the double header and hit Freeman, late of Paducah, hard. Score, Jackson 4, 7, 3; Henderson 6, 11, 5. Batteries, Freeman and Pettit, Gardner and Warner. Second game, Jackson 4, 6, 2; Henderson 6, 7, 3. Batteries, Gaston and Pettit; McNutt and Warner.

CAIRO BEATEN BY HOPTOWN.

Cairo, July 22.—Pitcher Bomar, twirler of the tailenders, and Holycross, the great, fought a battle here yesterday, requiring ten innings to settle their dispute. Cairo was defeated by a score of 2 to 1, the result being Hopkinsville 2, 8, 3, Bomar and Street; Cairo 1, 6, 5, Holycross and Rutledge. Umpire Clarke.

The latest addition to the pitching staff of Cairo, Will Spencer, of Champaign, Ill., arrived last evening. Spencer is a brawny blacksmith and is possessed of an excellent record. Manager Eichenberger kept a close watch on his work for the past month through the columns of the press in Southern Illinois. Since Spencer is a blacksmith, those envious of his work, which is sure to be brilliant, will claim that he wears a string of horseshoes around his neck. If they will take the trouble to examine the necklace they will ascertain that the ends all point upward, making sure that his luck will not run out.—Bulletin.

WILL NOT RUN.

PRESIDENT REED OF THE COUNCIL HAS HAD ENOUGH PUBLIC LIFE.

Hon Charles Reed, president of the board of councilmen, who has been called to become a Democratic candidate for the board of aldermen to be chosen in November, stated today to a reporter that he would not run. That a great many years of his life has been spent in public service, and he feels that he has had had enough. Colonel Reed was urged to become a candidate for mayor earlier in the year, but declined.

Excavation began at the cemetery. In some of the Parisian cemeteries there are open vaults connected with electrical appliances to prevent the burial of persons who may be only in a trance.

DISAGREEABLE REFLECTIONS

The mirror never flatters; it tells the truth, no matter how much it may hurt the pride or how humiliating and disagreeable the reflections. A red, rough skin is fatal to beauty, and blackheads, blotches and pimples are ruinous to the complexion, and no wonder such desperate efforts are made to hide these blemishes, and cover over the defects, and some never stop to consider the danger in skin foods, face lotions, soaps, salves and powders, but apply them vigorously and often without regard to consequences, and many complexions are ruined by the chemicals and poisons contained in these cosmetics.

Skin diseases are due to internal causes, to humors and poisons in the blood, and to attempt a cure by external treatment is an endless, hopeless task. Some simple wash or ointment is often beneficial when the skin is much inflamed or itches, but you can't depend upon local remedies for permanent relief, for the blood is continually throwing off impurities which irritate and clog the glands and pores of the skin, and as long as the blood remains unhealthy, just so long will the eruptions last. To effectually and permanently cure skin troubles the blood must be purified and the system thoroughly cleansed and built up, and S. S. S., the well known blood purifier and tonic, is acknowledged superior to all other remedies for this purpose. It is the only guaranteed strictly vegetable blood remedy. It never deranges the system or impairs the digestion like Potash and Arsenic and drugs of this character, but aids in the digestion and assimilation of food and improves the appetite. Being a blood purifier and tonic combined, the humors and poisons are counteracted and the blood made rich and pure, and at the same time the general health and system is rapidly built up and good health is established, and this, after all, is the secret of a smooth, soft skin and beautiful complexion.

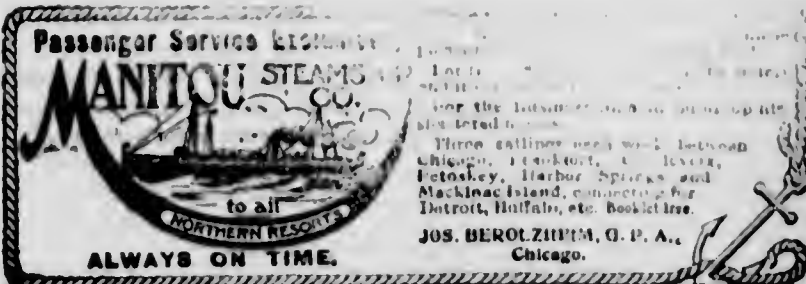

If you have any skin trouble send for our free book, "The Skin and Its Diseases." No charge for medical advice. Write us about your case.

GREAT DISASTER MIGHT BE WRONG

Paris, July 22—Some of the wonders coined by Novelist Wells' imagination may soon come true. Dr. Lebon, the noted scientific investigator, has reported that he has made a discovery fraught with possibilities hitherto only dreamed of by novelists. Dr. Lebon's experiment, which was actually effected, may lead to a terrible death dealing invention, similar in results to the mysterious machines of death of the Martians in Wells' "War of the Worlds," which hurled death upon the earth dwellers. Dr. Lebon was experimenting in Herizian waves in his laboratory, when suddenly he was surrounded by a rain of fire dropping from all of the metallic objects in the room. The experiment leads Dr. Lebon to conclude it would be possible to construct huge metallic mirrors, capable of reflecting Herizian rays several miles. They would be invisible and would ignite distant explosives like magazines, shells and even cartridges in soldiers' belts. If the discovery leads to a practical invention it will be possible to inflict death from a distance like Wells' Martians. Dr. Lebon says the magazines of warships would be vulnerable to the reflected Herizian waves owing to the electrical machinery aboard, while the torpedoes aboard or afloat would be exploded, with disastrous results.

FAMOUS GAMBLING HOUSE TO BE SOLD

New York, July 22—Phil Daly's famous Pennsylvania club house, with its gilded domes, at Long Branch, which for years was the finest gambling palace in this country and frequented only by those who could wager unlimited amounts, is advertised to be sold by the sheriff August 3, at Fresholt, N. J.

The brick brace, draperies and decorations of the Pennsylvania club cost more than $250,000. When the club was closed by the county officials last July the elder Daly was not incited among those indicted. Phil Daly, Jr., was indicted and fined $1,500. Up to that time the club had been closed but twice since its erection by the late John Hony in the early sixties.

THE CROWN PRINCE TO BE A CANDIDATE

Berlin, July 22—The German crown prince will be a candidate for the Reichstag at the next elections—this is the kaiser's latest scheme for beating the Socialists. "I would run myself," he said, "if the constitution permitted it. Bismarck was a fool to make it unconstitutional for the emperor to run." The Socialists are delighted with the idea for Reichstag deputies being unhampered by loss majestic laws, they propose to tell the crown prince such truth to his face "as papa never heard or saw in print before."

A WHITE ELEPHANT

CITY WANTS TO GET RID OF YEISER PARK NOW.

A meeting of the joint park committee of the general council and the park committee of fiscal court is set for tonight at the city hall, when it is expected that steps will be taken to do something with Yeiser park, the court house block, which has been an eyesore and disgrace to the city for several years past. The city several years ago leased the ground, agreeing to maintain it for a period of years, but it has never complied with its contract, and the county, backed by the city's contract to take care of the park, has also declined to do anything towards beautifying it or keeping it in anything like good condition.

The fence was ordered removed by the last fiscal court and the bill brought to the city for payment, and tonight it is hoped that some agreement will be reached by which the city will be relieved of the care of it. The county seems to be determined that the city keep up the park and the city seems equally determined not to do any more towards keeping it up than in the past, which amounted practically to nothing.

Miss Rogers' Progression. Who is Miss Rogers? Well, up till now she has been a school teacher; but hereafter she must appear on the roll of honor as the woman who whipped the six-foot captain of a high school football team with one hand while she was putting another youth into condition for the repair shop with the other. Miss Rogers has jumped from a small paragraph among the "school items" to a scare-head column on the sporting page.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

ROADMASTER LADEN TO GO NORTH FOR HIS HEALTH.

Roadmaster P. Laden, of the Tennessee division of the Illinois Central, has been granted a leave of absence on account of ill health. He will go to Rockford, Ill., and from there probably to some health resort. No temporary appointment has been made yet.

Mr. Laden has been the subject of many jokes on account of his resemblance to Mr. W. J. Harahan, the assistant general manager of the road. Mr. Laden is a little heavier than Mr. Harahan and when the two are seen together there is but little resemblance but a person who is not intimately acquainted with them, will invariably get them mixed. Some time ago a local reporter saw Mr. Laden here and thinking he was Mr. Harahan wrote an article about him and what he said relative to work on the road. Mr. Laden thought the reporter understood who he was but the reporter had mistaken him for Mr. Harahan.

FULTON REPORTERS ENJOYING ANOTHER PIPE DREAM.

Another mare's nest has been discovered in Fulton. It is now reported there that the I. It is claimed that the business cannot be properly handled until this has been done. This is probably something like Fulton's periodical spasm over moving the shops there from Paducah.

Colonel Hays is still as active as a young man, though nearly the age of three score and ten, and his many friends hope he may be able to round out 25 years more in the newspaper business.

TOOK OUT LIBEL

Uniontown Man Claims City of St. Louis Damaged Him

Sued Out Papers and Tied Her Up—Big Steamer Bonded Out.

The officers on the excursion steamer City of St. Louis, which arrived here yesterday morning from Evansville, were arrested last night about 8 o'clock by Deputy U. S. Marshal Syd Hubbard on a libel claim brought by W. Van Huseum, who conducts a fishery at Uniontown, Ky., who claims damages to the amount of $126 against the boat.

Bussum owns several fishing floats near that town and claims the boat was steered into one last Sunday and the float ruined and his business and apparatus damaged to the extent of the above amount.

Yesterday afternoon he appeared before Commissioner Armour Gardner and brought suit for damages against the boat owners and the papers were placed in the hands of Deputy U. S. Marshal Hubbard and last evening he went aboard the boat and caught it just as it was about to pull out with an excursion of 500 people. The trip was delayed about half an hour but Marshal Hubbard did not insist on tying up the craft, but let the officers complete the excursion. This morning they bonded the boat out and the trial will be conducted within the next few days.

The City of St. Louis is owned by Captain George Clifton, of Greenville, Miss., who arrived in the city yesterday on business connected with the boat.

ABOUT COLONEL BELKNAP.

Something of the life, and characteristics of Colonel Morris B. Belknap, Republican nominee for governor, is given by the Louisville Post, and shows that he is a gentleman of feeling and resources, a clever business man, and one who has always favored progress in all things. The criticisms of some of his opponents are effectively answered by the Post in the following:

"The Republican convention has selected as its candidate for governor Colonel Morris Belknap. In doing so it has named a merchant of character and capacity, and a public spirited citizen, who has been active in all public enterprises that tax a man's time and energy without bringing any personal rewards. Mr. Belknap has been prominently identified with the board of trade. He was for years connected with the Louisville Legion, and when it enlisted in the army he entered the army with the Legion. He has been a most useful member of the board of park commissioners, and gives his careful attention to any work he undertakes.

"In philanthropic work the city owes much to Mr. Belknap and to his family, who have co-operated in all good works. The organized charities, the kindergartens, and other public enterprises, occasional and permanent, have had the hearty and intelligent assistance of the Belknaps. They have given largely to the Young Men's Christian association, they have erected drinking fountains on our streets, they have been chiefly instrumental in maintaining the Wayfarers' Rest, and the chief ornament of Cherokee park is the new bridge, the gift of Mr. Morris Belknap.

"We mention these matters merely incidentally because they are matters about which Mr. Belknap is silent—always, and the city is not usually quick to recognize such services.

"In the selection of Mr. Belknap the Republicans have a leader whose personal character is above reproach, whose purposes are high, and whose services have been most creditable to the party with which he is associated."

No wonder Paducah is so far behind other cities in the improvement of her streets and sidewalks, when the legislative boards waste week after week in senseless and inefficient wrangling and inactivity. Many months have passed since the city decided to pave several blocks of streets in the business part of town, but practically nothing has ever been accomplished towards doing it. The improvement is virtually today where it was a year ago. If the members of the boards can't make up their minds what ought to be done and then do it, they should resign and let somebody else try. They wouldn't waste time this way in the transaction of their own business.

The city usually leaves the impression with the public that it is an easy mark. A short time ago it was ordered by the boards that a citizen who wouldn't sell his property for opening a street at what was deemed a reasonable figure, be offered $900 as a last resort, and if he didn't accept it to condemn it. He refused to accept it, and as a lesson to others the condemnation should have begun there and then. If the amount was not fair and reasonable, it should not have been offered him, and if it was fair and reasonable no further time should be wasted by the city. Instead, however of carrying out the orders of the boards, it has now been decided to "appoint appraisers," thus longer delaying the matter. The city ought to have a little backbone and when it starts to do a thing do it in the quickest and cheapest manner possible, which will in most cases prove to be the best.

The report of Major Buck, of the Third Infantry, on the Kentucky militia is a mild but significant arraignment of the administration, and steps should at once be taken to rectify existing defects. The value of a good, well disciplined militia is never fully appreciated until troops are needed most, and then the inefficiency shows up to the worst possible advantage. Major Buck says there is too much of that evil so apparent in Kentucky, of appointing men for personal reasons on the various staffs and as officers, instead of appointing them for their ability. In fact, it may be seen from his report that he finds the Kentucky militia, particularly as to the officers, principally a coterie of administration favorites, with a few earnest, well meaning and hard working men who never get a chance to do anything but keep up the organization for the benefit of the lazy incompetents who are members for pleasure, profit or prominence. Now that the world can see what kind of state guard Kentucky has, it is time to begin a reformation that will not stop until Kentucky ranks with the best.

President Roosevelt has received a letter of congratulation from Oscar S. Strans, echoing the sentiment of the B'nai B'rith, relative to his action in the Jewish petition. It says: "Eliaberon, N. J., July 18, 1903.—To President, Roosevelt, Oyster Bay, N. Y.—Heartiest congratulations upon your most satisfactory disposition of the Kiseineff petition. Your action in this matter, and in the recent Roumanian protest, marks an era in the highest realm of diplomacy, the diplomacy of humanity, which marshals the enlightened spirit of civilization against persecution and gives vitality and force to those beneficent principles in international relations which contribute to peace and happiness in every land."

"OSCAR STRAUS."
The Kaiser will probably now admire the United States more than ever. A plot to assassinate him was discovered in Chicago and he has been duly warned by the secret service agents of Uncle Sam. When the anarchists, who are now on their way, reach the other side they will probably not find things so pleasant as at the Windy City, where the plot was hatched.

The employers' associations of Chicago have continued to fight the labor unions on one point, that of their right to employ whom they please to work for them. In other words, they will no longer agree to bind themselves to the employment exclusively of union men, and a lively fight is anticipated as a result.

Miss Sadie Wilbers returned to Clinton, Mo., yesterday after visiting Miss Annie Baker, who accompanied her as far as St. Louis.

THE DEAD OF A DAY

Mr. Morris Maxon Dies at His Home in the County.

Was Seventy-one—Mrs. Jane Beatty Dies at Capt. Frank Beatty's Here.

MRS. MATTIE E. HOGAN DIES

Mr. Morris Maxon, formerly proprietor of Maxon's mill in this county, died at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening at his home at Maxon's Mill of nervous prostration. He was 71 years of age and one of the oldest settlers and best known citizens of this county. He was born in Wellsburg, W. Va., April 15, 1832. He was educated in Washington and Canonsburg, Pa.

In his early life he engaged in the milling business in Booneville, Ind., and later moved to Metropolis, where he was also a miller. He came to Paducah in 1858 and became connected with the Langstaff-Orin Manufacturing Co. He established Maxon's Mill in 1872 and has lived in that vicinity ever since, although he sold the mill, which is one of the landmarks of the county, eight years ago. He has since engaged in farming. Until his late illness he was remarkably vigorous.

He was married in Metropolis to Miss Sarah Kennedy, who with three children survives him. His children are O. W. Maxon, Mrs. Ed Wear and Mrs. G. W. Bennett, all of the county.

The burial will take place at Oak Grove at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Jane Eliza Beatty died this morning at 8 o'clock at the residence of her son, Captain J. F. Beatty, 1626 Broadway, of general debility and a complication of diseases.

Mrs. Beatty was born in Olean, N. Y., May 3, 1830, being 73 years of age. In 1850 she came to Ironton, Ohio, and was married there in 1851 to Captain F. Beatty, who has been dead some time ago. She moved to Paducah about eight years ago and has since made her home with her son, Captain Beatty. Five children survive her. They are Captain Beatty, Mrs. Samuel Johnston and Miss Marcia Beatty of this city. Mrs. Louisa Hattfield, of Niagara, Dakota, and Mrs. Charles Gillett, of Hamilton, Ohio.

Captain Beatty is in Nashville. He was notified of his mother's death this morning and will return home this evening. Mrs. Beatty was a member of the First Presbyterian church, and was a woman of beautiful Christian character. She was much beloved by those who knew her.

The funeral will take place at the family residence tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. It will be conducted by Rev. W. E. Cave of the First Presbyterian church. The remains will be taken to Ironton, O., for burial.

Mr. P. W. Rives, aged 40, of near Maxon's Mills, died yesterday from consumption after a long illness. He had resided in the county for many years and was a son-in-law of Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Chiles of the city and leaves a wife and two children and four brothers, the latter Messrs. Jefferson, Peter, March and Richard Rives. The funeral took place this afternoon, burial at family burying ground.

Mrs. Mattie E. Hogan, a venerable lady of Clements street, Mechanicsburg, died this morning from consumption after a long illness. She was a highly respected Christian woman who had made her home in Paducah for many years, and leaves to mourn her loss five children, Messrs. Holl, R. A. and J. P. Billingsley, Mrs. L. O. Lieberman and Mrs. Grace Storrie, Paducah, and a brother, Mr. S. M. Allen, of Hot Springs, Ark. He has been wired and funeral arrangements will be made when he arrives.

Mrs. Edward Gillatt died from malarial fever at 1375 South Ninth street yesterday afternoon, aged 27, leaving a husband and three children. The remains were taken to Rosebud, Ill., for burial.

RAIN NEEDED

DAMAGE TO CROPS BY CONTINUED DRY WEATHER.

The weekly crop bulletin says: The temperature averaged a little below the normal during the week. The rainfall was unevenly distributed, the western and southern portions of the state being visited with good showers, while the north-central and northeastern counties received very little rain. In some localities in the western section destructive local storms occurred, doing considerable damage to crops, fencing and buildings.

In the Bluegrass region and the counties to the north and east of the Bluegrass rain is very badly needed.

Wheat threshing is about completed in the western section and has progressed well in the central and eastern sections. As a whole the crop is very poor, but in some of the northeastern counties it is turning out better than was expected.

Corn has made a good growth, but many fields are late.

Tobacco is doing fairly well. There has been too much rain in some portions of the dark tobacco lands of the western section, but in the Burley districts it is needing more rain.

Oats are being harvested; winter oats are fairly good, but as a whole the crop will be short.

The hay crop in the western section is quite good, but it is light in the central and eastern sections.

Pastures are needing more rain except in the western portion, where they are in good condition.

Irish potatoes are a good crop and gardens are generally progressing well.

Apples are doing well in the western section, but they are dropping badly in the eastern and central portions of the state.

Hemp has been injured by the drought.

Farm work is well on.

EQUAL TO THE OCCASION.

Young Woman Could Write a Fair Business Letter Herself.

A Baltimore woman, the belle of her set, was much surprised not long ago to receive an invitation of which the following is the substance:

"Mr. Blank presents his compliments to Miss Blank, and requests the pleasure of her company at the theater on Thursday evening next.

"Awaiting and hoping for an early and favorable reply, we are, yours very truly, Blank & Co."

The writer of this remarkable effusion is a young business man who is a partner in a large furniture concern. He attends to a large proportion of the correspondence of the firm, and, of course, signs the firm's name thereto. So absorbed was he in business that he concluded his invitation with the stereotyped sentence above, and, to cap the climax, signed the firm's name to it. The fair recipient, however, appreciated the situation, and the young man was thunderstruck to receive a letter addressed to him personally, but containing the following reply to his invitation:

"Messrs. Blank & Co.: Your favor of recent date to hand and contents noted. In reply will say we accept the proposition therein made and hold the goods ordered subject to your further instructions. Very respectfully, Miss Dash & Co."

Explanations and apologies followed, and the New York Times, and the invitation was duly accepted, but the matter was too good to be kept a secret, and for some time after life was made a burden to that young man. Even the meaningless query, "How's business?" sufficed to drive him frantic.

We would like to ask, through the columns of your paper, if there is any person who has used Green's August Flower for the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and liver troubles that has not been cured—and we also mean their results, such as sour stomach, fermentation of food, habitual constipation, nervous dyspepsia, headaches, despondent feelings, sleeplessness—in fact, any trouble connected with the stomach or liver? This medicine has been sold for many years in all civilized countries, and we wish to correspond with you and send you one of our books free of cost. If you never tried August Flower, try a 25 cent bottle first. We have never known of its failing. If so, something more serious is the matter with you. The 25 cent size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. At all druggists.

BEN HAD FORGOTTEN

SUCCESSFUL LOVER VICTIM OF HIS OWN TRICK.

Boston Man Tells of Characteristic Incident in the Early Life of Gen. Butler—Proof That "Pride Goeth Before a Fall."

A Boston man came across the following incident in the life of the late Gen. Butler the other day, and it seems such an example of the truth of that old saying, "The boy is father of the man," that it is worth repeating.

In his youth, so the story goes, Ben, with two other unfortunates, sought the hand of a maiden in northern Maine.

The race was very even, and for a long time the issue was in doubt. But one day the maiden told the three rivals that, if they would all come on a certain evening, she would give them her answer.

The future lawyer, fearing that he did not stand so high in the maiden's eyes as the others, saw a chance for the exercise of his wit. Strategy alone would win the day.

On one side of a river lived the damsel, and about opposite on the other side boarded the anxious lovers.

The river was bridged at but one point, and that was in the center of the village, nearly a mile from these houses. But some workmen had felled a log and thrown it across the stream, and on this Bridge of Sighs the lovers were wont to wend their way.

Ben started a little early on the fateful evening, and took with him a ball of soft soap. Crossing the log backward, he carefully greased it behind him, and then triumphantly entered the fair one's abode.

Hardly had the conversation begun, when through the open window steps were heard on the opposite bank, then a creaking, as if someone had stepped upon the log, and then a splash, accompanied by muffled epithets of rage and vexation.

Ben smiled and winked contentedly at his brand new lover, while the young lady looked surprised, but said nothing.

Time passed, and no one came. Presently there was the sound of another approach, and the previous process was repeated, saying this time the "blankety-blanks" were of a more vigorous character and longer continued.

Ben winked the other eye, and gazed complacently at the gay white vest which completed his careful "get-up."

As to what followed in the parlor we are not definitely informed, but suffice to say at a late hour Ben issued forth happy and elated at his success, tearing the promise of his fair one's hand.

So happy was he that all recollection of the log's slippery condition had escaped his mind, and, oblivious to all else save his good fortune, he sallied out upon the log.

But, alas, "pride goeth before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall." Into the river he went, new trousers, vest and all, and tradition tells us that the atmosphere, already murky, on Ben's issue from the river's depths was of such a character as to rival Dante's "Inferno"—Boston Herald.

WON FORTUNE AT PIN POOL.

Games at Denver When the Stakes Really Were High.

"I am reminded," remarked Col. Charles Degraffenreid of Ouray to the Herald Square group, "by all this fuss about high play at Canfield's of the time when we boys used to play pin pool for $100,000 a game in the early days of Denver. I never shall forget the time my friend, Colonel, afterward Senator, 'Tom' Popen, won $200,000 one afternoon. You would like to hear the story? All right. You see 'Tom' came to Denver from Arkansas down on his luck. 'Steve' Dorsey had just defeated him for the United States senate.

"'Tom' didn't seem to catch on in Denver, though he was a good lawyer. He was run down at the hotel and he took to pin pool to kill time. The stakes were usually a round of drinks and a bunch of riding stock, the par value of the stocks represented being entirely consistent with the cost of paper and the price of printing. It was always a real hardship on 'Tom' when he lost. The drinks had to be paid for in cash, you know. But he seldom lost, and do you know the little woman at home used to go through his pockets every night for winning stocks.

"Well, one day there was a high strike in a prospect not so very far from Denver, and in telling his wife about it the future Senator signed that he wished he owned a few shares. 'I think you do, dear,' answered the little woman, and then to make sure she went and looked over her possessions. To make a long story short, 'Tom' Popen went down town that afternoon with securities worth half a million in his pocket, and he remembered that he had won them all in a single half day not long before."—New York Evening Telegram.

DEAFNESS NOT ALWAYS BAD.

Edison Does Not Lock Upon It as an Affliction.

That Thomas A. Edison is deaf is a fact well known to the public. Only his intimate friends, however, are aware that in his case deafness is more a psychological phenomenon than a physical condition. That which interests him he can usually hear very well, but to that which does not interest him he can be as deaf as the proverbial adder.

Not long ago a specialist in diseases of the ear called upon Mr. Edison and unfolded a plan of treatment which he was sure would restore his hearing. The inventor listened to his story with patience, as it was informative on several points. To the proposition that he submit to treatment, however, Mr. Edison opposed an emphatic negative. "What I'm afraid of," said he, "is that you would be successful. Just think what a lot of stuff I'd have to listen to that I don't want to hear! To be a little deaf and be the only one who knows just how deaf you are has its advantages, and on the whole I think I prefer to let well enough alone."

ABOUT COLONEL BELKNAP.

Something of the life, and characteristics of Colonel Morris B. Belknap, Republican nominee for governor, is given by the Louisville Post, and shows that he is a gentleman of feeling and resources, a clever business man, and one who has always favored progress in all things. The criticisms of some of his opponents are effectively answered by the Post in the following:

"The Republican convention has selected as its candidate for governor Colonel Morris Belknap. In doing so it has named a merchant of character and capacity, and a public spirited citizen, who has been active in all public enterprises that tax a man's time and energy without bringing any personal rewards. Mr. Belknap has been prominently identified with the board of trade. He was for years connected with the Louisville Legion, and when it enlisted in the army he entered the army with the Legion. He has been a most useful member of the board of park commissioners, and gives his careful attention to any work he undertakes.

"In philanthropic work the city owes much to Mr. Belknap and to his family, who have co-operated in all good works. The organized charities, the kindergartens, and other public enterprises, occasional and permanent, have had the hearty and intelligent assistance of the Belknaps. They have given largely to the Young Men's Christian association, they have erected drinking fountains on our streets, they have been chiefly instrumental in maintaining the Weyfars' Rest, and the chief ornament of Cherokee park is the new bridge, the gift of Mr. Morris Belknap.

"We mention these matters merely incidentally because they are matters about which Mr. Belknap is silent always, and the city is not usually quick to recognize such services."

"In the selection of Mr. Belknap the Republicans have a leader whose personal character is above reproach, whose purposes are high, and whose services have been most creditable to the party with which he is associated."

No wonder Paducah is so far behind other cities in the improvement of her streets and sidewalks, when the legislative boards waste week after week in senseless and inefficient wrangling and inactivity. Many months have passed since the city decided to pave several blocks of streets in the business part of town, but practically nothing has ever been accomplished towards doing it. The improvement is virtually today where it was a year ago. If the members of the boards can't make up their minds what ought to be done and then do it, they should resign and let somebody else try. They wouldn't waste time this way in the transaction of their own business.

The city usually leaves the impression with the public that it is an easy mark. A short time ago it was ordered by the boards that a citizen who wouldn't sell his property for opening a street at what was deemed a reasonable figure, be offered $900 as a last resort, and if he didn't accept it to condemn it. He refused to accept it, and as a lesson to others the condemnation should have begun there and then. If the amount was not fair and reasonable, it should not have been offered him, and if it was fair and reasonable no further time should be wasted by the city. Instead, however of carrying out the orders of the boards, it has now been decided to "appoint appraisers," thus longer delaying the matter. The city ought to have a little backbone and when it starts to do a thing do it in the quickest and cheapest manner possible, which will in most cases prove to be the best.

The report of Major Buck, of the Third infantry, on the Kentucky militia is a mild but significant arraignment of the administration, and steps should at once be taken to rectify existing defects. The value of a good, well disciplined militia is never fully appreciated until troops are needed most, and then the inefficiency shows up to the worst possible advantage. Major Buck says there is too much of that evil so apparent in Kentucky, of appointing men for personal reasons on the various staffs and as officers, instead of appointing them for their ability. In fact, it may be seen from his report that he finds the Kentucky militia, particularly as to the officers, principally a coterie of administration favorites, with a few earnest, well meaning and hard working men who never get a chance to do anything but keep up the organization for the benefit of the lazy incompetents who are members for pleasure, profit or prominence. Now that the world can see what kind of state guard Kentucky has, it is time to begin a reformation that will not stop until Kentucky ranks with the best.

President Roosevelt has received a letter of congratulation from Oscar S. Straus, echoing the sentiment of the B'nai B'rith, relative to his action in the Jewish petition. It says: "Elder, N. J., July 18, 1903—To President, Roosevelt, Oyster Bay, N. Y.—Heartiest congratulations upon your most satisfactory disposition of the Kischineff petition. Your action in this matter, and in the recent Romanian protest, marks an era in that highest realm of diplomacy, the diplomacy of humanity, which maintains the enlightened spirit of civilization against persecution and gives vitality and force to those beneficent principles in international relations which contribute to peace and happiness in every land."

"OSCAR STRAUS." The kaiser will probably now admire the United States more than ever. A plot to assassinate him was discovered in Chicago and he has been duly warned by the secret service agents of Uncle Sam. When the anarchists, who are now on their way, reach the other side they will probably not find things so pleasant as at the Windy City, where the plot was hatched.

The employers' associations of Chicago have combined to fight the labor unions on one point, that of their right to employ whom they please to work for them. In other words, they will no longer agree to bind themselves to the employment exclusively of union men, and a lively fight is anticipated as a result.

Miss Sadie Withers returned to Clinton, Mo., yesterday after visiting Miss Annie Baker, who accompanied her as far as St. Louis.

THE DEAD OF A DAY

Mr. Morris Maxon Dies at His Home in the County.

Was Seventy-one—Mrs. Jane Beatty Dies at Capt. Frank Beatty's Here.

MRS. MATTIE E. HOGAN DIES

Mr. Morris Maxon, formerly proprietor of Maxon's mill in this county, died at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening at his home at Maxon's Mill of nervous prostration. He was 71 years of age and one of the oldest settlers and best known citizens of this county. He was born in Wellsburg, W. Va., April 15, 1832. He was educated in Washington and Canonsburg, Pa.

In his early life he engaged in the milling business in Booneville, Ind., and later moved to Metropolis, where he was also a miller. He came to Paducah in 1858 and became connected with the Langstaff-Orm Manufacturing Co. He established Maxon's Mill in 1872 and has lived in that vicinity ever since, although he sold the mill, which is one of the landmarks of the county, eight years ago. He has since engaged in farming. Until his late illness he was remarkably vigorous.

He was married in Metropolis to Miss Sarah Kennedy, who with three children survives him. His children are O. W. Maxon, Mrs. Ed Wear and Mrs. G. W. Bennett, all of the county. The burial will take place at Oak Grove at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Jane Beatty died this morning at 8 o'clock at the residence of her son, Captain J. F. Beatty, 1626 Broadway, of general debility and a complication of diseases.

Mrs. Beatty was born in Olean, N. Y., May 3, 1830, being 73 years of age. In 1850 she came to fronton, Ohio, and was married there in 1851 to Captain F. Beatty, who has been dead some time ago. She moved to Paducah about eight years ago and has since made her home with her son, Captain Beatty. Five children survive her. They are Captain Beatty, Mrs. Samuel Johnston and Miss Marcia Beatty of this city. Mrs. Louie Hatfield, of Niagara, Dakota, and Mrs. Charles Gillett, of Hamilton, Ohio.

Captain Beatty is in Nashville. He was notified of his mother's death this morning and will return home this evening. Mrs. Beatty was a member of the First Presbyterian church, and was a woman of beautiful Christian character. She was much beloved by those who knew her.

The funeral will take place at the family residence tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. It will be conducted by Rev. W. E. Cave of the First Presbyterian church. The remains will be taken to fronton, O., for burial.

Mr. P. W. Rives, aged 40, of near Maxon's Mills, died yesterday from consumption after a long illness. He had resided in the county for many years and was a son-in-law of Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Chiles of the city and leaves a wife and two children and four brothers, the latter Messrs. Jefferson, Peter, March and Richard Rives. The funeral took place this afternoon, burial at family burying ground.

Mrs. Mattie E. Hogan, a venerable lady of Clements street, Mechanicsburg, died this morning from consumption after a long illness. She was a highly respected Christian woman who had made her home in Paducah for many years, and leaves to mourn her loss five children, Messrs. Holl, R. A. and J. P. Billingsly, Mrs. L. O. Lieberman and Mrs. Grace Storrie, Paducah, and a brother, Mr. S. M. Allen, of Hot Springs, Ark. He has been wired and funeral arrangements will be made when he arrives.

Mrs. Edward Gillatt died from malarial fever at 1375 South Ninth street yesterday afternoon, aged 27, leaving a husband and three children. The remains were taken to Rosebud, Ill., for burial.

RAIN NEEDED

DAMAGE TO CROPS BY CONTINUED DRY WEATHER.

The weekly crop bulletin says: The temperature averaged a little below the normal during the week. The rainfall was unevenly distributed, the western and southern portions of the state being visited with good showers, while the north-central and northeastern counties received very little rain. In some localities in the western section destructive local storms occurred, doing considerable damage to crops, fencing and buildings.

In the Bluegrass region and the counties to the north and east of the Bluegrass rain is very badly needed.

Wheat threshing is about completed in the western section and has progressed well in the central and eastern sections. As a whole the crop is very poor, but in some of the northeastern counties it is turning out better than was expected.

Corn has made a good growth, but many fields are late.

Tobacco is doing fairly well. There has been too much rain in some portions of the dark tobacco lands of the western section, but in the Burley districts it is needing more rain.

Oats are being harvested; winter oats are fairly good, but as a whole the crop will be short.

The hay crop in the western section is quite good, but it is light in the central and eastern sections.

Pastures are needing more rain except in the western portion, where they are in good condition.

Irish potatoes are a good crop and gardens are generally progressing well.

Apples are doing well in the western section, but they are dropping badly in the eastern and central portions of the state.

Hemp has been injured by the drought.

Farm work is well up.

Young Woman Could Write a Fair Business Letter Herself.

A Baltimore woman, the belle of her set, was much surprised not long ago to receive an invitation of which the following is the substance:

"Mr. Blank presents his compliments to Miss Dash, and requests the pleasure of her company at the theater Thursday evening next."

"Awaiting and hoping for an early and favorable reply, we are, yours very truly, Blank & Co."

The writer of this remarkable effusion is a young business man who is a partner in a large furniture concern. He attends to a large proportion of the correspondence of the firm, and, of course, signs the firm's name thereto. So absorbed was he in business that he concluded his invitation with the stereotyped sentence above, and, to cap the climax, signed the firm's name to it. The fair recipient, however, appreciated the situation, and the young man was thunderstruck to receive a letter addressed to him personally, but containing the following reply to his invitation:

"Messrs. Blank & Co.: Your favor of recent date to hand and contents noted. In reply will say we accept the proposition therein made and hold the goods ordered subject to your further instructions. Very respectfully, Miss Dash & Co."

Explanations and apologies followed says the New York Times, and the invitation was duly accepted, but the matter was too good to be kept a secret, and for some time after life was made a burden to that young man. Even the meaningless query, "How's business?" seemed to drive him frantic.

Mr. Charles Alcott Meets With a Serious Accident.

While Walking in His Sleep He Tumbled Out on Hard Gravel.

Mr. Charles Alcott fell from a second story window at his residence on Monroe street near Eleventh, last night while walking in his sleep and is painfully, though not seriously injured. A gash is cut in his head, his back is hurt and one of his arms is dislocated from the fall.

Mr. Alcott retired rather late, and had been asleep probably an hour when his mother, who was asleep upstairs, was awakened by a noise below. It was followed by a knock on the back door and she went down stairs to investigate it. She opened the door and found her son at the foot of the stairs standing there with blood streaming from a wound on his forehead and looking dazed. He struck on one leg, apparently, or he would have been instantly killed. Laboring under a mental hallucination, he told her he had been kidnapped. Knowing that he had been inside, however, she immediately guessed what happened, and told him he must have fallen out of the window. She assisted him to his room and Dr. J. R. Coleman was summoned. He was unconscious for some time but was much better this afternoon.

The window from which Mr. Alcott fell opens on a gravelled driveway and is about 20 feet high, which made the fall a dangerous one. He will probably be confined at home for several days.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING.

The marriage of Miss Lillian Beadles of this city and Mr. Jack Houser of Fulton took place at the residence of the bride on Madison street this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. J. Newell of the Broadway Methodist church. It was a pretty home wedding, with only relatives and intimate friends present. The attendants were Miss Lela Beadles, a sister of the bride, and Mr. James Gillespie of Jackson, Tenn. The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of white chiffon over white silk. The bridesmaid wore white silk. The bridegroom wore a tuxedo. The couple will leave at 6 o'clock for Fulton, where they will reside.

ARTISTIC RECITAL.

The recital of Miss Mary Evans Sanders of Jackson, Tenn., and Miss Virginia Newell of this city was heard by an appreciative audience at the Broadway Methodist church last night. The young ladies gave "Enoch Arden," Mrs. Sanders giving an impersonation, of the poem and Miss Newell accompanying her with music. The rendition was effective and artistic. The proceeds of the entertainment went to the Parsonage and Home Mission society of the church.

COULD HER SUFFRAGE SUFFER?

Amusing Mistake Made by Australian Woman Voter.

Female suffrage sometimes leads to amusing mistakes. A candidate at a recent election in Australia, where the women have votes, tells a story in this connection. The constituency was a seaport town, and one of the burning issues before the electors was the question of heritage rates. A woman voter came to him and asked whether he was in favor of imposing these heritage rates, because if he was she would take good care that neither her husband nor herself would vote for him. A little discussion of the matter revealed the fact that the woman was under the impression that the question of heritage rates related to a poll tax on babies. That candidate now doubts whether the average female voter is not under a delusion, or, perhaps, say, under a spell.—New York Tribune.

EXPERIMENTS

LEARN THINGS OF VALUE.

Where one has never made the experiment of leaving off coffee and drinking Postum it is still easy to learn all about it by reading the experiences of others.

Drinking Postum is a pleasant way to get back to health. A man of Lancaster, Pa., says: "My wife was a victim of nervousness for years and was a physical wreck; although we resorted to numerous methods of relief one of which was a change from coffee to tea, it was all to no purpose.

"We knew coffee was causing the trouble but could not find anything to take its place and once the diseases until we tried Postum Food Coffee. In two weeks' time after we quit coffee and used Postum almost all of her troubles had disappeared as if by magic. It was truly wonderful. Her nervousness was all gone, stomach trouble relieved, appetite improved, and above all a night's rest was complete and refreshing.

"This sounds like an exaggeration, as it all happened so quickly, but we are prepared to prove it. Each day there is improvement for the better for the Postum is undoubtedly strengthening her and giving her rich red blood and renewed life and vitality. Every particle of this good work is due to Postum and to drinking Postum in place of coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Ice cold Postum with a dash of lemon is a delightful "cooler" for warm days.

NERVES GAVE WAY—PE-RU-NA CURED.

Mrs. X. Schneider, 2409 Thirty-seventh Place, Chicago, Ill., writes:

"After taking several remedies without result, I began in January, 1902, to take your valuable remedy, Peruna. I was a complete wreck. Had palpitation of the heart, cold hands and feet, female weakness, no appetite, trembling, sinking feeling nearly all the time. You said I was suffering with systemic catarrh, and I believe that I received your help in the nick of time. I followed your directions carefully and can say to-day that I am well again. I cannot thank you enough for my cure. I will always be your debtor. I have already recommended Peruna to my friends and neighbors and they all praise it. I wish that all suffering women would try it. I testify this according to the truth."—Mrs. X. Schneider.

Mrs. Fanny Klavatscher, of Summitville, N. Y., writes as follows: "For three months I suffered with pain in the back and in the region of the kidneys, and a dull, pressing sensation in the abdomen, and other symptoms of pelvic catarrh. But after taking two bottles of Peruna I am entirely well, better than I ever was."—Mrs. Fanny Klavatscher.

Dog That Pumps His Own Drinking Water.

A dog that pumps his own drinking water is one of the curiosities of Frankfort. This dog is a Newfoundland and his name is Jack. From the beginning of his career, water was always given to Jack in one way—from a basin set under a pump in his master's yard. He was little more than a puppy when his mind grasped the fact that the movement of the pump handle meant water for him. Accordingly, whenever he was thirsty he would take the handle in his teeth and shake it, barking vigorously. This gave his master an ingenious idea. The young man rigged to the handle a kind of pulley, with a cord hanging from it, and a piece of broom handle about six inches long, fastened to the end. To take hold of this piece of broom handle and shake it vigorously caused the rigging to move the handle up and down and a little water to flow. The first time the dog saw the dangling wood of a size so attractive and so suited to his mouth, he seized it, and he shook it up and down and from side to side. About a pint of water flowed into his basin and he took a drink. Ever since, whenever he has been thirsty, Jack has pumped for himself.—Philadelphia Record.

A Mixed-Up Embassy.

Someone called up the French embassy in Washington by telephone and said he wished to know something about Marquis De Chambrun's wife. He was informed that there are four De Chambruns and he answered that he meant the one who married an American girl. The conversation proceeded thus: "Three of them married American girls." "I'm after the one who married a girl from Cincinnati." "Two of them married girls from Cincinnati." "Great heavens! Which one is coming here to join the embassy staff?" "The Marquis De Chambrun." "I mean his wife." "He hasn't any wife; he is a bachelor."

FOUND A WONDERFUL MINE.

Prospector Thought He'd Discovered Valuable Quartz, but It Wasn't.

"While the Great Salt Lake of Utah is on record as one of the seven wonders of the world, the North Pole Mine at Alta is in many respects the most remarkable mine in the world. Although it is not working at this time, it contains inexhaustible quantities of material that would bring $20 per ton in Salt Lake," said Mr. Tucker C. Cheney of Salt Lake City.

"The man who discovered the North Pole mine drove a tunnel for 200 feet and struck a new formation. It was apparently a very clear crystal quartz. The tunnel appeared very cold, so the miner knocked off a few samples and dropped them in his lunch basket and came to Salt Lake. He showed his specimens around. None of the boys had seen anything like the stuff, so he tied himself to the assayer's office and perfected a deal with the assayer to put his samples through the mill.

"When he went to look into his satchel for the samples they had strangely disappeared. There was nothing on the inside of the grip but dampness and a plenty of it. When he went back to his mine he made some further experiments and found that he had struck a mine of pure ice. He had driven his drill into an old glacier. There appear to be thousands of tons of ice in the strike, and I have often wondered why a company has not been formed to market it."

ELL FROM WINDOW

Mr. Charles Alcott Meets With a Serious Accident.

While Walking in His Sleep He Tumbled Out on Hard Gravel.

Mr. Charles Alcott fell from a second-story window at his residence on Monroe street near Eleventh, last night while walking in his sleep and is painfully, though not seriously injured. A gash is cut in his head, his back is hurt and one of his arms is lacerated from the fall.

Mr. Alcott retired rather late, and had been asleep probably an hour when his mother, who was asleep upstairs, was awakened by a noise below. It was followed by a knock on the back door and she went down stairs to investigate it. She opened the door and found her son attired in his night shirt standing there with blood streaming from a wound on his forehead and looking dazed. He struck on one leg, apparently, or he would have been instantly killed. Laboring under a mental hallucination, he told her he had been sandbagged. Knowing that he had been inside, however, she immediately guessed what happened, and told him he must have fallen out of the window. She assisted him to his room and Dr. J. R. Coleman was summoned. He was unconscious for some time but was much better this afternoon.

The window from which Mr. Alcott fell opens on a gravelled driveway and is about 20 feet high, which made the fall a dangerous one. He will probably be confined at home for several days.

Lease

Of Life Renewed After Terrible

Suffering From Heart Disease.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Gave Me Health.

"Some years ago I suffered greatly with heart disease. I tried the best doctors in our county and got no relief until I began the use of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I used three bottles and have not had occasion to call a doctor since. It restored my heart to healthy activity and has given me a new lease of life. Prior to taking the remedy I was very restless and got but a few hours sleep during the night, felt tired out, had no ambition, was completely discouraged and had given up all hopes of getting better. I had taken so much medicine without relief that I had little faith when I began taking the Heart Cure, but after taking one bottle I could rest well. My stomach did not trouble me and in three months my health was completely restored. It is nearly six years since I stopped taking the Heart Cure and have had no return of the old symptoms and I know my cure is permanent."—LEWIS LAWRENCE, Ft. Worth, Texas.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure pleases everyone who tries it. Taken, primarily, to strengthen the heart, the patient is pleasantly surprised to find that after a short time, his stomach is in better condition, his nerves are steadier, his color better, his strength greater, his appetite is improved and that he rests better at night. The reason is plain. It cures the symptoms by removing the cause. Stop doctoring your symptoms. Remove the cause with Heart Cure, the great heart and blood tonic.

All druggists sell and guarantee first bottle. Dr. Miles' Remedies. Send for free book on Nervous and Heart Diseases. Address Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

ARTIFICIAL RUBIES NOW MADE.

Process Turns Out Stones as Beautiful as the Real Ones.

The manufacture of artificial rubies, which in appearance are as good as the natural stones, is now an accomplished fact. A demonstration of this achievement was given to the members of the Academie des sciences yesterday afternoon.

Some years ago artificial rubies were placed on the market, but a microscopic examination revealed the fact that the crystals were imperfect. The rubies manufactured by M. Verneuil, however, are of a superb red color, and of a purity and sparkle equal to the genuine article. The cost of producing them is not a heavy one, so that there is every reason to anticipate that the new discovery will lead to a sensible diminution in the price of the formerly precious stones.

The rubies are obtained by a new process, in which the blow-pipe plays an important part, and the stones are both beautiful and of a goodly size. The specimen shown at the meeting of the academy was much admired by the savants.—London Leader.

ORIGIN OF "MEAL MONDAY."

Time When Students of Edinburgh University Led Strenuous Life.

Students in the Scottish universities enjoyed their "Meal Monday" Feb. 9, but few of the undergraduates remembered how the holiday was instituted. In the far-off days, when learning was really nourished on "a little oatmeal," the students, before leaving home for the universities, provided themselves with a quantity of meal, sufficient to make "halesome porridge" half through the session. By the end of January their "meal kists" had run low and "a day off" was given in which the student was expected to journey half way home, meeting at this point his parent or brother, who brought with him a second load of the simple diet. The holiday was fixed on a Monday so as to allow the undergraduate the benefit of the preceding Saturday. In times past the journeys would often extend to fifty or sixty miles. The modern student goes home for "Meal Monday," but he travels with a railway ticket and has no thought of the painful journeys of his ancestors.

THE CHURCH LOSING INFLUENCE.

Ministers No Longer Guide Their Flocks in Secular Affairs.

If scholarly men more and more reject the church as the means by which they will influence opinion and conduct, and replace it by educational, editorial and administrative agencies, the next century may be altogether guided in its intellectual decisions and in those of its actions which depend on intellectual judgments by forces outside the church. Our grandfathers looked to the minister for advice, not only upon religious beliefs and moral practice, but also upon most matters outside their own direct acquaintance. The minister prescribed for the education of sons, solved social problems, and acted as the source and judge of truth in matters of general knowledge. Our sons seem likely to regard the ministry as a body of men fitted to with men's religious welfare, but less fitted to be general mentors than others. The direction of the people in other than purely religious activities may pass wholly out of the hands of the church.—Century Magazine.

Tribute to Abram S. Hewitt.

As a tribute to the memory of Abram S. Hewitt a $500,000 fund is being raised by wealthy New Yorkers and the sum will probably be used as an endowment for the benefit of Cooper union. The project is already an assured success, as Andrew Carnegie has subscribed $50,000, J. P. Morgan and William Earl Dodge $25,000 each, while such very wealthy men as W. C. Whitney, D. O. Mills and Wheeler H. Peckham are on the committee in charge of the enterprise. Mr. Morgan is treasurer of the committee.

Bismarck and His Emperor.

The correspondence of Emperor William I and Prince Bismarck, which is coming into print shows that great intimacy existed between the two men. The most interesting letters are those written during the Franco-German war.

Bagpipes Not Scotch.

It is said that the only thing Scotch in a set of bagpipes is the sheepskin and tartan. The wood—ebony or coc—comes from Africa or Jamaica, the ivory from Africa, the horn from Australia, and the cane for the reed from Spain.

American Apple Crop Large.

The American apple crop this year will be one of the best since the record-breaking yield of 1896, when 69,000,000 barrels were gathered. The yield may reach 40,000,000 barrels, representing a market value of $34,500,000.

Canadian Statesman in Washington.

The physical counterpart of King Edward startled a great many observers in Washington last week in the person of William Ross, member of the Canadian parliament and a resident of Port Perry, Ont. He was escorted into the Senate chamber by Dooliver of Iowa and was warmly welcomed. He was able to give the American statesman a piece of information in regard to a matter then under discussion. A difference of opinion had developed as to whether cloture rules were in force in any of the Canadian parliamentary bodies. Mr. Ross said no such rule was known in either house of parliament in Ottawa, and Mr. Hoar thereupon announced the fact in the Senate.

THE PERFECT LIVER MEDICINE.

Mrs. M. A. Jolley, Nohle, O. T., writes: "I have used Herbine for a number of years and can cheerfully recommend it is the most perfect liver medicine and the greatest blood purifier. It is a medicine of positive merit and fully accomplishes all that is claimed for it." Malaria cannot find a lodgment in the system while the liver is in perfect order, for one of its functions is to prevent the absorption of fever-producing poisons. Herbine is a most efficient liver regulator. 50c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Genius and Common Sense.

A French lady has written a most interesting account of a visit to Count Tolstol. She found him under the loving domain of his devoted wife, who made him eat and drink for his bodily good without the slightest regard for his theories of diet. "Men of genius," she remarked to the visitor, "need people of common sense to contradict them occasionally."

REPULSIVE FEATURES.

Blackheads, pimples, greasy faces and muddy complexions, which are so common among women, especially girls at a certain age, destroying beauty, disfiguring and making repulsive features which would otherwise appear attractive and refined, indicate that the liver is out of order. An occasional dose of Herbine will cleanse the bowels, regulate the liver and so establish a clear, healthy complexion. 50c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

To Thaw Frozen Pipes.

Some electricians at Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, are making a good business by thawing frozen pipes. They carry about a large battery on a sleigh, call at afflicted houses, and run a strong current through the offending portion of the pipe. The apparatus has never been known to fail, and the water begins to flow again very quickly.

THE BOSS WORM MEDICINE.

H. P. Knapp, druggist, Leighton, Ala., writes: "One of my customers had a child which was sick and threw up all food; could retain nothing on its stomach. He bought one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and it brought up 119 worms from the child. It's the boss worm medicine in the world." White's Cream Vermifuge is also the children's tonic. It improves their digestion and assimilation of food, strengthens their nervous system and restores them to the health, vigor and elasticity of spirits natural to childhood. 25c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

The Brooklynite.

Ex-Lieut. Gov. Woodruff, at the Lincoln club, Brooklyn, was asked by a quizzing fellow-member if he knew the reason why the inhabitants of their borough were called Brooklynites. "To be sure I do," promptly replied the genial "Tim," with his most expansive smile. "Because—barring election day—night is the only time they are ever there!"—New York Times.

TO OLD POINT COMFORT AND THE SEASHORE, AUG. 18—A TOUR OF EDUCATION.

The personally conducted excursion to Old Point Comfort, in charge of Mr. W. A. Wilgus, S. P. A., will be run Tuesday, August 18, via the I. C. and C. and O. railways, from Paducah. On regular train, connecting with Seashore Special, leaving Louisville from union depot, foot of Seventh street, at 1:30 p. m. The round trip rate to Old Point Comfort is only $18.55, and the tickets are good until September 2.

This is the most popular outing offered the traveling public. Grand and beautiful scenery, invigorating mountain air, surf bathing, ocean voyage, palatial hotel entertainment and a visit to the capital. Every attention and every comfort guaranteed. Delightful side trips at low rates. Every attention and courtesy will be extended to ladies traveling alone. Choice of routes returning, between Richmond and Clifton Forge, will be given. Application for sleeping car space should be made at once to W. A. Wilgus, S. P. A., Hopkinsville, Ky. For further particulars address as above or call on I. C. railway agent, J. T. Donovan.

OUTING SPOTS

NORTHWEST

There are many places in the country of the Northern Pacific, some inexpensive, others better and more expensive, where one can spend the summer days pleasantly and healthfully. Among these are Walker in the Leech lake country, and Detroit and Battle Lake in the Lake Park region in Minnesota; Eaton's ranch, near Medora, N. D.; Hunter's Hot Springs in the Yellowstone valley, and Missoula and the Bitter root valley in Montana; Lakes Pend d'Oreille and Cour d'Alene, Idaho; North Yakima in Eastern Washington, and Green River Hot Springs in the Cascades; Tacoma, Seattle, Port Townsend, Port Angeles and Victoria on Puget Sound, and many places along the Columbia river and off the Pacific Ocean from Portland as a center.

Those east of the Mississippi who wish a decided change should go to the Rockies or the Puget Sound and Columbia river and sea coast country. We can only hint at these things here, but write us giving particulars as near as you can, and we will try to give you the needed information to enable you to find what you want. And don't forget that Yellowstone Park is the chief of all tourist shrines.

"I couldn't go to sleep till I'd said 'goodnight' to you," he began, with another gulp. "I hid down an' made a try at it, but it wasn't no go. I've got to say it. I'm here to swear that if God or some'n else don't show me a way to pay you back for what you done today I'll never draw a satisfied breath. Alan, I think you're a man—a man from yore outside skin to the marrow o' yore bones, an' if I don't find some way to prove what I think about you I'll just burn up! I got into that trouble as thoughtless as I'd play a prank with my baby, an' then they all come down on me an' begun to try to drive me like a hog out'n a field with rocks an' sticks, an' the very old Harry riz in me an' defied 'em. I reckon that wasn't anything Bill could do but carry out the law, an' I knowed it, but I wasn't ready to admit it. Then you come along an' rendered a verdict in my favor when you needed the money you did it with. Alan, if I don't show my appreciation it'll be because I don't live long enough. You never axed me but one thing, an' that was to quit drinkin' whisky. I'm goin' to make a try at it, not because I think that 'll pay you back, but because with a sober head I kin be a better friend to you of the chance ever comes my way."

"I'm glad to hear you say that, Pole," replied Alan, greatly moved by the fellow's earnestness. "I believe you can do it. Then your wife and children?"

"Hang my wife an' children!" shouted Pole. "It's you I'm goin' to work for—you, I say!"

He suddenly turned through the open gate and strode homeward across the fields. Alan stood looking after him till his tall form was lost in the hazy moonlight, and then he went up to his bed.

Pole entered the open door of his cabin and began to undress as he sat on the side of his crude bedstead, made of unhatched poles fastened to the bare logs in one corner of the room. His wife and children slept on two beds on the other side of the room.

"Did you see 'im, Pole?" piped up Mrs. Baker from the darkness.

"Yes, I seed 'im. Sally, say, what's that bottle o' whisky I had this last time I was at home?"

There was an ominous silence. Out of it rose the soft breathing of the children. Then the woman sighed. "Pole, shurely you ain't a-goin' to begin agin'!"

"No; I want to bust it into smithereens. I don't want it about; I don't want to know that's a drop in the house. I've swore off, an' this time she sticks. G'it me that bottle!"

Another silence. Suddenly the woman spoke: "Pole, you've swore off as many times as a dog has fleas. Often when I seed 'im sick when you are off, a drop o' whisky makes me feel better. I don't want you to destroy the last bit in the house just because you've tuck this turn, that may wear off before daylight. The last time you swore off you got on a spree an' felt the baby over the well an' threatened to drop 'er in ef I didn't find a bottle, an' you'd 'a' done it too."

Pole laughed softly. "I reckon you're right, ole gal," he said. "Besides, ef I can't—ef I ain't man enough to let up with a bottle in the house I won't do it without. But the sight or smell of it is hell itself to a lover of the truck. Ef I was to tell you what a little thing started me on this last spree, you'd laugh. I went to get a shave in a barber shop, an' when the barber finished he soaked my face in bay rum, an' it got in my mistake. I kept sniffin' it all mornin' an' tried to wipe it off, but she wouldn't wipe. All the time I kept walkin' up an' down in front o' Luke Sellmore's bar. Finally I said to myself, 'Well, ef you have to have a barroom stuck under yore nose all day like a wet sponge, ole man, you might as well have one where it'll taste better, an' I slid up to the counter.'

"The woman sighed audibly, but she made no reply.

"Is Billy awake?" Pole suddenly asked.

"No; you know he ain't," said Mrs. Baker.

"Well, I want to take 'im in my bed," Pole stood out on the floor in the sheet of moonlight that fell through the open door.

"I wouldn't, Pole," said the woman. "The pore little feller's been toddlin' about after the others, draggin' brush to the heap tell he's tired. He drapped to sleep at the table with a piece o' bread in his mouth."

"I won't wake 'im, God bless his little heart," answered Pole, and he reached down and took the limp child in his arms and pressed him against the side of his face. He carried him tenderly across the room and lay down with him. His wife heard him uttering endearing things to the unconscious child until she fell asleep.

ceived an urgent invitation to join the party, and he rode down after dinner.

It was a hot afternoon, and the party of a dozen couples had scattered in all directions in search of cool, shady nooks. Alan was by no means sure that Miss Barely would be there; but if the truth must be told, he went solely with the hope of at least getting another look at her. He was more than agreeably surprised, for just as he had hitched his horse to a hanging bow of an oak near the spring Frank Hillhouse came from the tangle of wild vines and underbrush on a little hillside and approached him.

"You are just the fellow I'm looking for," said Frank. "Miss Dolly's over there in a hammock, and I want to leave something with her. Old man Morley promised me the biggest watermelon in his patch if I'd come over for it. I won't be long."

"Oh, I don't care how long you are," smiled Alan. "You can stay all day if you want to."

"I thought you wouldn't mind," grinned Frank. "I used to think you were the one man I had to fight, but I reckon I was mistaken. A feller in love imagines everybody in creation is against him."

Alan made no reply to this, but hurried away to where Dolly sat, a new magazine in her hands and a box of candies on the grass at her feet. "I saw you riding down the hill," she said, with a pretty flush and a little excitement. "To tell the truth, I sent Frank after the melon when I recog-

"I saw you riding down the hill," she said. "To tell the truth, I sent Frank after the melon when I recognized you. He's been threatening to go all the afternoon, but I insisted on it. You may be surprised, but I have a business message for you, and I would have made Frank drive me past your house on the way home if you hadn't come."

"Business?" Alan laughed merrily. He felt very happy in her presence under all her assurances of welcome.

"The idea of your having a business message! That's really funny."

"Well, that's what it is. Sit down. She made room for him in the hammock, and he sat beside her, his foolish brain in a whirl. "Why, yes, it is business, and it concerns you. I fancy it is important. Anyway it may take you to town tonight."

"You don't mean it," he laughed. She looked very pretty in her light orange gown and big rustic hat, with its wide, flowing ribbons.

"Yes, it is a message from Rayburn Miller about that railroad idea of yours."

"Really? Then he told you about that?"

"Yes. He was down to see me last week. He didn't seem to think much of it then, but—she hesitated and smiled as if over the memory of something amusing—"he's been thinking of it since. As Frank and I drove through the main street this morning—Frank had gone in a store to get a basket of fruit—he came to me on his way to the train for Atlanta. He hadn't time to say much, but he said if you were out here today to tell you to come in town tonight without fail, so as to meet him at his office early in the morning. He'll be back on the midnight train. I asked him if it was about the railroad, and he said it was; that he had discovered something that looked encouraging."

"I'm glad of that," said Alan, a thrill of excitement passing over him. "Rayburn threw cold water on my ideas the other day, and—"

"I know he did, and it was a shame," said Dolly warmly. "The idea of his thinking he is the only man in Georgia with originality! Anyway, I hope it will come to something."

"I certainly do," responded Alan. "It's the only thing I could think of to help my people, and I am willing to stake all I have on it—which is, after all, nothing but time and energy."

"Well, don't you let him or any one else discourage you," said the girl, her eyes flashing. "A man who listens to other people and puts his own ideas aside is unworthy of the train God gave him. There is another thing"—her voice sank lower and her eyes sought the ground—"Rayburn Miller is a fine, all round man, but he is not perfect by any means. He talks freely to me, you know; he's known me since I was knee high. Well, he told me—he told me of the talk he had with you at the dance that night. Oh, that hurt me—hurt me!"

"He told you that?" exclaimed Alan in surprise.

"Yes, and it actually disgusted me. Does he think all men ought to act or that sort of advice? He might, for he has made an unnatural man of himself, with all his fancies for new faces, but you are not that kind, Alan, and I'm sorry you and he are so intimate; not that he can influence you much, but he has already in a way, and that has pained me deeply."

"He has influenced me?" cried Alan in surprise. "I think you are mistaken."

"You may not realize it, but he has," said Dolly, with gentle and yet unyielding earnestness. "You see, you are so very sensitive that it would not be hard to make you believe that a young man ought not to keep on caring for a girl whose parents object to his attentions."

"Ah!" He had caught her drift.

There was a pause. At the foot of the hill a little brook ran merrily over the water browned stones, and its monotonous lapping could be heard distinctly. Under the trees across the open some of the couples had drawn together and were singing:

"I see the boat go round the bend,
Goodbye, my lover, goodbye."
Dolly had said exactly what he had never hoped to hear her say, and the fact of her broaching such a subject in such a frank, determined way sent a glow of happiness all over him.

"I don't think," he began thoughtfully, "that Rayburn or any man could keep me from"—he looked into her full, expectant eyes and then plunged madly—"could keep me from caring for you, from loving you with all my heart, Dolly, but it really is a terrible thing to know that you are robbing a girl of not only the love of her parents, but her rightful inheritance, when—when"—he hurried on, seeing that an impulse to speak was urging her to protest—"when you haven't a cent to your name and, moreover, have a black eye from your father's mistakes."

"I knew that's what he'd said!" declared the girl, almost white with anger. "I knew it! Oh, Alan, Rayburn Miller might be able to draw back and leave a girl at such a time, but no man could that truly loves us—as I believe you love me. I have known how you have felt all this time, and it has nearly broken my heart, but I could not write to you when you had never even told me what you have today. You must not let anybody or anything influence you, Alan. I'd rather be a poor man's wife and do my own work than let a paltry thing like my father's money keep me from standing by the man I love."

Alan's face was ablaze. He drew himself up and gazed at her, all his soul in his eyes. "Then I shall not give you up," he declared—"not for anything in the world. And if there is a chance in the railroad idea I shall work at it ten times as hard now that I have talked with you."

They sat together in blissful ignorance of the passage of time till some one shouted out that Frank Hillhouse was coming with the watermelon. Then all the couples in sight or hearing ran to the spring, where Hillhouse could be seen plunging the big melon into the water. Hattie Alexander and Charlie Durant, who had been perched on a jutting boulder high up on the hill behind Dolly and Alan, came half running, half sliding, down, catching at the trees to keep from falling.

"Better come get your teeth in that melon," Hattie said, with a knowing smile at Dolly. They lived next door to each other and were quite intimate.

"Come on, Alan," Dolly rose. "Frank will never forgive me if I don't have some."

"I shan't have time if I go to town tonight," replied Alan. "I have something to do at home first."

"Then I won't keep you," Dolly smiled, "for you must go and meet Rayburn Miller. I'm going to hope that he has had good luck in Atlanta."

The world had never seemed so full of joy and hope as Alan rode homeward. The sun was setting in glorious splendor behind the towering mountains, above which the sky seemed an ocean of mother of pearl and liquid gold. Truly it was good to be alive. At the bars he met Abner Daniel with a flashing cane in his hands, his bald head under his arm.

"I know right what you've been," he said, with a broad smile as he threw down the bars for Alan to pass through. "I seed that gang drive by an' I thought they was comin' to the queen bee in the lead with you. Little makeshift of a man."

Alan dismounted to prevent his uncle from putting up the bars, and they walked homeward side by side.

"Yes, and I've had the time of my life," said the young man. "I talked to her for a solid hour."

"I could see that in yore face," said Abner quietly. "You couldn't hide it, an' I'll bet she didn't lose time in lettin' you know what she never could hide from me."

"We understand each other better now," admitted Alan.

"Well, I've certainly set my heart on the match—on gittin' her in our family," affirmed Abner. "Durned ef I declare, sometimes I'm afeard I'm gone on 'er myself. Ye, I want you an' me to make it. I want to set an' smother an' chaw on yore front porch an' hear her back in the kitchen fryin' ham an' eggs, an'—the old man winked—"I don't know as I'd object to trottin' some'n on my knee to sorter pass the time betwixt meals."

MR. MATTHIS RESIGNS

Y. M. C. A. Physical Instructor
Will Go Elsewhere.

Secretary Hanna Goes Tomorrow to
Lake Geneva, Wis., to Secure
His Successor.

PLANS FOR THE COMING YEAR

Mr. B. F. Matthis, physical instructor of the Y. M. C. A., has declined an offer from the Paducah association for next year, and will go elsewhere to reside. He will leave the middle of August for a visit to relatives in Nebraska and will probably not return to this city, since the Y. M. C. A. year closes in September. He may, however, return for a short while. Secretary Stuart B. Hanna will leave tomorrow for Lake Geneva, Wis., a national summer camp for the Y. M. C. A., for the purpose of securing another physical director. He will be absent about a week or ten days.

Mr. Matthis has won many friends in Paducah during his residence here since last October, who will regret his decision not to remain. His geniality and fine character have made him a favorite, not only with members of the association, but in a general way. He has made no special plans for next year.

The management of the Y. M. C. A. has decided to recommend to the board of directors a number of additional improvements before the opening of the fall work. Last fall over $400 was spent for improvements, but the increased patronage demands increased and more attractive equipment. The changes that will be recommended to the next meeting of the board include: $75 for equipping rooms for the boys' department on the second floor; linoleum laid upon the floor of the lobby, hallway, bath room and proposed locker room; refurnishing the interior woodwork, additional gymnasium apparatus, a new locker room to be built just east of the gymnasium; binders for the magazines and improved locks on all lockers.

A handsome illustrated prospectus of the next year's work will be issued about September 1.

The plans for the year's work are being carefully laid. The physical department will teach both the American and the Swedish systems of physical culture. Mr. Matthis' successor will be chosen with reference to strong, careful work in this department.

In the educational department, including the night school, reading room, library and educational clubs, the work will be double the strength of last year. The best shorthand instructor in the city, teaching also the touch method of typewriting, and bookkeeping, has been secured. Young women will be admitted to these subjects. In addition arithmetic, penmanship, reading and spelling and, if a first class instructor can be secured, mechanical, free hand and architectural drawing will be taught.

In bible study, religious and social work the efficiency of the association will be increased.

The annual statistical report will be issued about September 1 and will show the remarkable gain that has been made during the past twelve months.

Douglas Jerrold's Caustic Wit.
His quarrels with actors during the years of his dramatic activity were incessant; he complained that they would give their ideas of the characters rather than his, says the Bookman. Once he complained of the inferior company that was performing one of his plays at the Haymarket theater. "Why, there's a V—," said the manager, protesting, "he was bred on these boards." "He looks as if he have been cut out of them," growled the playwright. Jerrold was always very nervous on a "first night." Another dramatist popularly supposed to "lift" his plots and situations from the French, assured him that he did not know the meaning of nervousness on such an occasion. "I can quite understand that," the wit said pleasantly, "your pieces have always been tried before." "Call that a kind man," said an actor, speaking of an acquaintance who was abroad; "a man who is away from his family and never sends them a farthing! Call that kindness!" "Certainly," said Jerrold, "unremitting kindness."

BOATS HAVE TROUBLE

Government Wants Damages
From Ayer & Lord Tie Co.

A Collision Between the Margaret and a
Dredge Boat Caused the Trouble.

The Ayer & Lord Tie company of Chicago, and the United States government marine authorities are in a controversy over damages alleged to have been done the U. S. Kentucky dredge boat at Rockport bar on the 25th of May, this year.

Captain H. Baker of the tie company, stated this morning that the company was not responsible in any respect for the damages and would refuse absolutely to pay the money demanded as damages. The facts in the case as related by Captain Baker are that the steamer Margaret, of the Ayer & Lord Co., was coming down the river with six barges of ties, and at the Rockport bar met the dredge boat which was lying out in the river to convenience the crew which had been "bothered by mosquitoes." When the Margaret blew for the channel the dredgeboat crew refused to swing around and let it pass, saying that the river was wide enough without moving. The result was that the Margaret grounded and the towswain around and crashed into the dredgeboat. The barges in the tie company's tow were also badly damaged and chains and other apparatus badly broken, for which Captain Baker asked nothing. The dredgeboat people claim the accident was the result of the imperfect handling of the tow boat and demanded damages which were refused. There has been much correspondence carried on since the accident and the matter has aroused interest in river circles. The tie company has positively refused to pay and the matter is being carried to the highest authorities today for settlement. There will probably be a regular case made out and the depositions of several pilots and captains taken.
